Dedicated To My Daughter

JOANNE E. (WOODS) YORK

P R E F A C E

Many years has come and gone since my boyhood days when my father would say, "Grandmother Woods was a Mitchell," "Grandmother Boynton was a Murch." Ever since then I've always had a longing to trace back the Woods' family as far as possible. Just recently I traced them back into the Royal families of England. It was through Samuel Woods' wife Hannah Farwell, b. 1667 Chelmsford, Mass. to Henry II, King of England, b. 1133.

Just before retirement, I started to fulfill my dream. After much material was accumulated, I decided to compile the Woods Family of Unity, where I was born on a farm. I also wanted to share this material with others and preserve our heritage. It was thought best before making the final master copies to make up some copies of my first draft to distribute among those involved for corrections, changes, additions, etc. I would greatly appreciate anyone's help.

There are so many people with the same name, I have assigned a number to them for identification. Also, there are numbers just after the first name to designate the number of generations from the Patriarch, Joseph^{1} Woods. Joseph^{2} would be the son of Joseph^{1}.

Not being able to thank everyone in person, who went out of their way to give material for this book, I wish to take this opportunity to acknowledge them here:

Mrs. Priscilla (Smith) Kennie for typing up my book. To those who are not related are Albert J. Sears, James B. Vickery, Mrs. Priscilla Jones, Mrs. Carol Ehrenfest, Mrs. Arline Lowd and Miss Marion Dunn. To those who are in the Woods Family are Mrs. Elizabeth M. Brownell, Mrs. Ruth (Woods) Palmer, Mrs. Priscilla (Loring) Brock, Mrs. Eleanor (Van Volkenburgh) Sortino, Robert C. Dutton, Mrs. Sandra (Brown) Hinkley, Mrs. Barbara (Marden) Sholes, Almer and William Blunt, Mrs. Blanche (Hofman) Blunt, Mrs. Leslie (Blunt) Doyle, Mrs. Arlene (Brush) Trull, Mrs. Barbara (Brown) Anderson, Miss Frances Woods and to others that I have interviewed.

A special thanks to my dear wife for her support and encouragement.

The Woods Family of Unity, Maine

The ancestry of the Woods family of Unity, Maine goes back to Samuel Woods who was born about 1636 and settled in Groton, Mass. (See "The Woods Family of Groton, Mass.," by Henry E. Woods, A.M., of Boston,- New England Historical & Genealogical Register, Vol. 64, page 34) (1910).

There were three generations from the Groton family to the Unity family as follows:

1st gen., SAMUEL WOODS, born about 1636. He married Alice Rushton, Sept. 28, 1659 in Cambridge, Mass. They moved to Groton, Mass. in 1662. He died there 1717-18, his wife also died there Apr. 17, 1712.

2nd gen., SAMUEL WOODS, 1st child of Samuel and Alice, born Jan. 3, 1660-61 in Cambridge, Mass., died at Groton, March 19, 1712. He married Hannah Farwell, Dec. 30, 1685 in Chelmsford, Mass., the dau. of Ens. Joseph and Hannah (Learned) Farwell. (Probably the name Joseph started here).

3rd gen., JOSEPH WOODS, 9th child of Samuel and Hannah, born June 21, 1707 in Groton, Mass., died in Lancaster, Mass. 1745. He married Hannah White, May 15, 1729 in Lancaster, the daughter of Josiah and Abigail (Whitcomb) White.

1. JOSEPH WOODS, son of Joseph and Hannah (White) Woods, born in Lancaster, Mass., Apr. 5, 1731 (The age on his grave-stone is an error). He died in Unity, Me. June 12, 1815. He first married Lucy Butler, Nov. 30, 1757 at Lancaster, she was born June 25, 1738, in Lunenburg, Mass., dau. of William and Lucy (Story) Butler. Her death record and what happend to her hasn't been found. It is thought that she and her two youngest children burned to death with their dwelling at Bridgton, Me. It has been stated that Joseph settled in Standish, Me. before the Revolutionary War. He was living in Bridgton, Me. when he married his second wife, Sarah York, Aug. 19, 1776 at Gorham, Me.

She was born Apr. 11, 1756, dau. of Abraham and Lydia (Jordan) York of Standish, Me. Sarah died Aug. 15, 1830 in Unity, Me. She and Joseph are buried in the Boulter Cemetery, So. Unity. According to deeds, Joseph owned land in Bridgton and So. Standish on the River Road. He probably left for Unity about 1802 as he appointed his brother-in-law, Isaac York, as his acting attorney to settle his estate at this time (Book 39, page 477, Cumberland County Registry of Deeds). His military status was listed under "Capt. Ballard in Col. Rugglesses Regiment in the first Expedition against Crown Point, Vizt" (See petition by his mother in Mass. Archives, XCV, 188). According to "Descendants of John White" Vol. II, page 9, he served in Capt. Samuel Sawyer's company, from June 21, 1776 to Dec. 1, 1776. Children by his 1st wife, Lucy, all born in Lancaster, Mass.:

2. i. Samuel Woods, b. Jan. 2, 1759
3. ii. Rachel Woods, b. Jan. 28, 1761
iii. Ursula Woods, b. Feb. 24, 1763
iv. Lucy Woods, bapt. May or June, 1772

9. x. George Woods, b. , 1796
10. xi. Moses Woods, b. Nov. 30, 1798

(Note: Bennett Woods of Troy may have been a child)

2. SAMUEL WOODS (Joseph[1]) born at Lancaster, Mass., Jan. 2, 1759; died at Fairlee, Vt. Mar. 28, 1825. He married first his 1st cousin Elizabeth Woods on Jan. 5, 1785 at Lancaster, who was born at Leominster, Mass. June 12, 1764 dau. of Levi and Tamar (Houghton) Woods. She died Apr. 18, 1817 at Fairlee, Vt. He married second to Mrs. Mary (Peters) Buell at Fairlee. Children by 1st wife, Elizabeth, all born at Leominster:

11. i. Elizabeth Woods, b. Apr. 28, 1785

3. RACHEL WOODS (Joseph[1]) born at Lancaster, Mass., Jan. 28, 1761; dau. of Joseph and Lucy (Butler) Woods, married in Lancaster June 1, 1785, John Fletcher b. Oct. 1, 1754. Children:

i. Lucy Fletcher, b. Lancaster, Sept. 24, 1786
ii. John Fletcher, Jr.
iii. Nancy Fletcher
iv. Charles Fletcher
v. Joseph Fletcher

4. JOSEPH WOODS (Joseph[1]) born in Standish, Me., Sept. 22, 1778; son of Joseph and Sarah (York) Woods; died Jan. 13, 1872 in Unity, Me. Married Lydia Rackliff born in Scarborough, Me., dau. of Joseph c. and Mary (Welch) Rackliff of Scarborough, and later in Standish. Mr. Rackliff was in George Washington's army at Valley Forge, later a selectman of Standish in 1793. Joseph and Lydia left Standish for Unity in 1798 on horseback. She held her infant son, George in one arm and guided the horse with the other over 100 miles much of which was wilderness

Lydia's oldest sister, Sarah and husband, Josiah Hopkins, had gone to Unity the year before so probably this was the reason they chose to make their new home there. Joseph was one of the first settlers in the south part of Unity, cleared a farm in the woods and built a house and barn that was located about three-quarters of a mile south of the highest point in Unity. This compiler remembers reading an old newspaper clipping about the "barn raising" of Joseph Woods. It stated to this effect that after the "raising" had gotten underway, some of the men asked, "Where are the drinks?" and Joseph told them he had provided plenty of tea and coffee, also some good "vittles" to eat but no "hard" drinks. Whereupon, they left. But word got around town of what happened and the next day a good part of the town's people turned out and put up the barn, for he was respected for his firm beliefs.

Another (corrected) news paper article of Joseph Woods in the Republican Journal, Belfast, Me., Feb. 10, 1870, as follows:

"A Vigorous Old Couple. In recording something of a tramp over the railroad line, last fall, we mentioned the first settlers of Unity. Capt. Baker, of this city, a native of that town, has given some facts of interest concerning Joseph Woods and his wife, who were among the earliest settlers of Sandy Stream Plantation, now Unity. Mr. Woods is now 92 years of age, and but for rheumatic troubles would be still a man of considerable vigor. His mind is unimpaired, and memory of early events excellent. NOTE: Capt. Charles Baker married Joseph's granddaughter Aurilla Carll (See pages 26, 27).

He was married when 19, his wife being 16, and they have lived together 73 years, and had 13 children, of whom 9 are living. They came to Unity, in 1798, on horseback, from Standish, and settled on the farm where they now reside. There were then but forty persons within the present limits of Unity. He helped to build the first house, a log one, in Thorndike, which was occupied by George Dyer and John White. Mr. Woods also helped to build the first road to Belfast, when there were but two stores here. One of these was kept by D. Hubbard, the owner of the other, Mr. Woods does not remember. Altogether this venerable couple are fine specimens of the old stock, which seems to have been made of more enduring materials than people of later generations. We hope the old gentleman may be spared to ride in the cars to this city, over the route he used to follow by spotted trees through the woods."

Joseph lived over a year after the railroad was completed on Sept. 24, 1870. It would be interesting to know if he took a ride to Belfast on the train before he died on Jan. 13, 1872.

History states, "Joseph was an exceedingly honest man, noted for his integrity as well as his temperate habits, never drank a glass of liquor or used any tobacco or drank any tea or coffee during his long life." He was diligent worker in the Methodist Church in So. Unity. In 1805, only he, his wife and two others were members. But by 1828, there were 46 members. Another place states, "The twenty-nine South Unity Methodists led by Joseph Woods."

This compiler has in his possession Joseph's Bible (printed 1832) where Joseph kept all his family records including his parents birth dates.

He and his wife lived together over 73 years. They are buried next to each other in the Boutler Cemetery, So. Unity, Me. Children all born at Unity except 1st child at Standish:

MOULTON'S BRIDGE, UNITY, ME.

This bridge was built by Amaziah T. Woods and withstood all kinds of traffic for about a half century. This compiler remembers in the early 1920's when a 5 ton caterpillar tractor hauled 3 wagons loaded with lumber over this bridge several times a day for several months. The bridge was replaced with a concrete one about 1929. Some of the old granite blocks were used in the base of the new bridge and can be seen today.

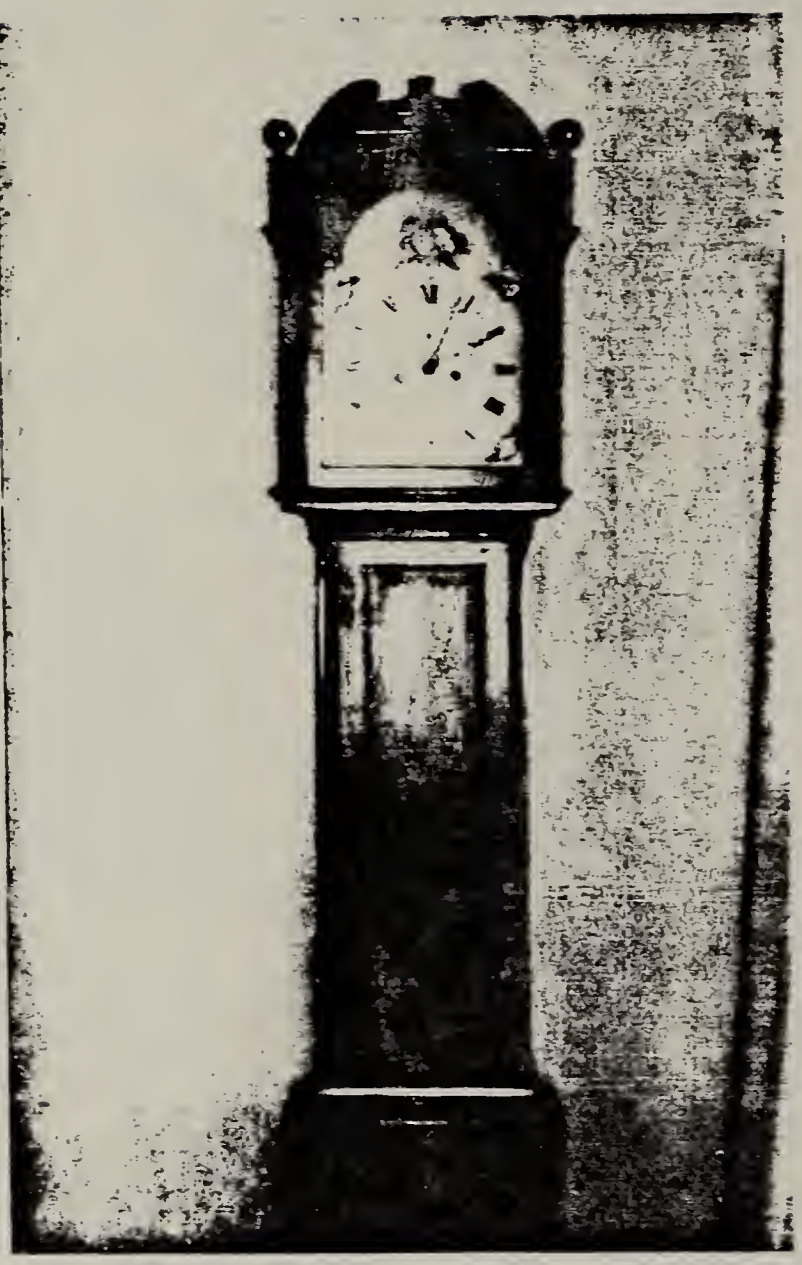
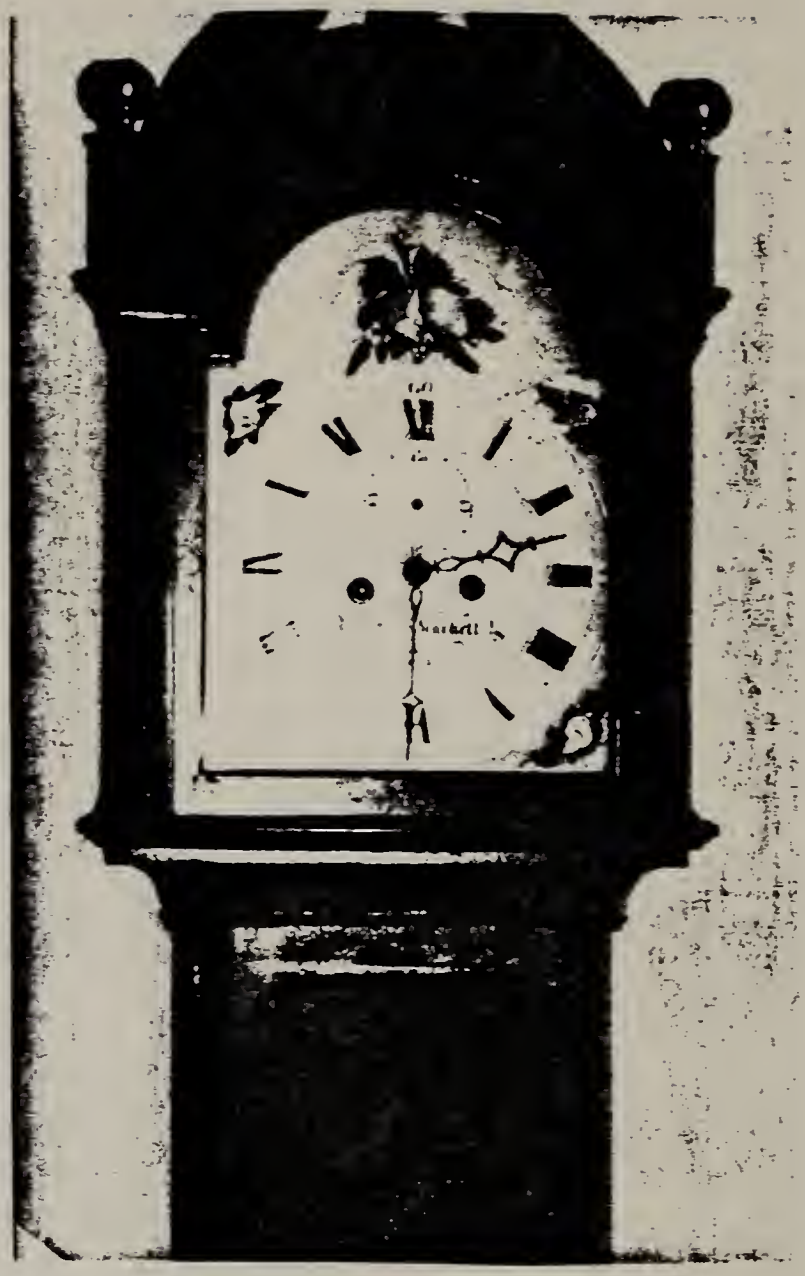
He married Maude Thompson who was born Jan. 7, 1878 in Unity, Me. and died there in 1965, daug. of John M. and Elizabeth (Lake) Thompson. She is a descendant of John Melvin, a Revolutionary War soldier and one of the first settlers of Unity. Mr. Woods was born and raised on the same farm that his pioneer grandfather settled on in 1798. Like his father, he carried on the old Woods homestead until he sold it about 1912 and moved to Unity Village on Depot Street. He was elected town selectman in 1907 and was noted for his dry humor. Children all born on the Old Woods' homestead:





Joseph and Lydia Woods' Grandfather Clock was made at Unity, Maine about 1830 by Reuben Brackett on Quaker Hill. It has wooden works. It was handed down from Joseph to his son Benjamin, to his son Wesley, to his daughter Virginia. The clock is still running, keeping good time.

i. Virginia Woods, b.Jan. 9, 1902 married Samuel Farwell the son of Joseph and Julia (Nichols) Farwell of Unity. After her husband died she remarried Milton Scribner, a game warden. Virginia is an accomplished pianist and a lover of animals. This compiler remebers her caring for a baby fawn deer that was deserted by its mother. Much credit to her for preserving the old Woods' grandfather clock made in Unity about one and a half centuries ago. Res: Unity, Me.
